

ON THE EDITORIAL page in this issue we make our endorsements for next Tuesday's election.

We have done this in every election since we have been in Campbell so we are more or less prepared for the comments and criticisms that will be forthcoming.

Human nature being what it is, those who agree with our selections will think it just great. Those who disagree will claim we have rocks in our head or worse.

Some will be irate enough to cancel their subscriptions. This, too, we have learned to take in stride.

Wouldn't it be awful, however, if everyone agreed with us?

BESIDES WE HAVE made it tough for the partisan voter.

We have skipped back and forth, as you will note, even in the case for governor and lieutenant governor.

For instance we endorse Pat Brown (Dem.) for governor and Bob Finch (Rep.) for lieutenant governor.

That may sound silly but surprisingly enough, a number of other newspapers have followed the same pattern.

For example, the Riverside Enterprise & Press, in making a similar endorsement entitled the editorial, "The Case for a Split at the Top".

But enough about the pre-election situation.

Let us assure you that any similarity between our endorsements and the actual results will probably be coincidental.

We make no claims about "influencing the voters".

But, at least you know how your editor is going to mark his own ballot.

Talk about influence, we know our Dorothy will cancel our vote in several instances.

WEIGHING ONE'S WORDS (especially at election time) would be good advice to follow when tempers are aroused. In fact it is probably good advice for any time. We ought to know because we have been a dealer in words for a longer period of time than we care to enumerate.

But recently we "weighed" words in a different fashion at the office. Just four of the reference books available, for example, weigh 50 pounds.

The office is the proud possessor of the new "Random House Dictionary of the English Language" and we agree in principle with the blurb publicizing it... and we quote "A massive repository of information made for a lifetime of use".

Except that bit about "a lifetime" doesn't really hold.

The office's newest reference book replaces the 1955 "Webster's New Twentieth Century Dictionary of the English Language

Re-name San Tomas (?)

Residents want 'Jack Fischer School'

A long-established policy of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District which names schools after the streets on which they are located could be modified in the case of the San Tomas School, if the trustees heed the request of residents in that area to change its name to Jack C. Fischer School.

Residents of the area have indicated that they would like to have the name of San Tomas School changed to the "Jack C. Fischer School" in tribute to the late Jack Fischer who served as principal of the school for 13 years.

The suggestion of the name change was made to the board on an informal basis on Oct. 6. The trustees have deferred any action on the matter until Dec. 15.

Since the informal suggestion, an organized movement has been under way in the San Tomas area working under a "change-of-name committee" that has been formed to support the recommendation.

Committee members are urging those interested in the name change to write letters to Mrs. David Graham-Armstrong, president of the board of trustees, before the December meeting of the board.

In addition, petitions are being circulated by the committee throughout the San Tomas area recommending the change. Those interested in signing the petition can contact Mrs. Ray Vierra, 379-4977 for further information.

Jack Fischer, one of the most popular school administrators in this community's history, died on Sept. 26 after a lengthy illness at the age of 47.

His untimely death shocked the entire community of which he had taken an active interest for the 13 years he had lived here. During all those 13 years he had been principal of San Tomas School and his loss hit that area the hardest.

One of the committee members in advocating

City may improve 'main drag'

Campbell Ave. from Winchester east, long this city's 'main drag', may be improved and widened within the next year, if the City Council follows the anticipated recommendation of City Manager Bob Stephens.

The city manager's recommendation will depend on the results of a special meeting of the "Downtown Redevelopment Committee" on Nov. 9. The committee, which has struggled for several years, to form an off-street parking district for the downtown business area, is expected to decide Nov. 9 whether plans for the district should be discontinued.

Faced with a shrunken district, because at least two large property owners do not desire to participate and a lack of interest from a number of others, formation of an adequate parking district in the immediate future seems improbable, according to civic leaders who have long supported the idea.

Any major improvement to Campbell Ave., which has long been in need of a complete

JUST TOO MUCH--Miss Margaret Deming, at 156 Harrison, has appealed to the City Council to trim the overhanging limbs of the huge trees that tower over the house (above) that she is renting. She is not asking that the trees be cut down completely, although she thinks they are dying because they shed leaves in all seasons. Council members, who take a dim view of removing any trees in the city, have agreed to personally investigate the situation.

WHEN THE LIGHTS WENT ON--Traffic signal lights at Winchester and Budd began operating last week and the stop-go controls are expected to improve the traffic flow at that busy intersection, as well as from other side streets onto Winchester. The "in" and "out" drive-ways at the St. Lucy's parking lots have also been reversed so that "out" traffic from the parking lot will have the benefit of the signals.

Unique "Campbell Stamps" mark 15th year in business with special discount offer

Celebrating its 15th Anniversary this month is the Campbell Merchants Stamp Association, a group of local merchants who are participating in one of the few truly unique stamp groups in the state.

Now under the leadership of Charles De La Roche of the Winchester Hardware Store, the Association points back to 15 years of active interest in the community. As a special feature of the celebration, all member-merchants are thanking local shoppers by offering an added discount during its Anniversary days, Nov. 3, 4 and 5, De La Roche said. Stamp books will be redeemed for $5.00 instead of the usual $3.00 during the celebration, he pointed out.

Among the member-merchants who have served and directed the organization since its inception are L. E. (Bill) Means, of Campbell Drug and Pharmacy. Means served as first president of the Association. In discussing the start of the 15-year-old organization, Means said, "There was a lot of effort put forth 15 years ago by many of our local merchants to create a successful organization, and it all proved worthwhile. Our original purpose in organizing was to keep local money in our area, and we still feel this is a good idea."

Others who have participated for the full 15 years are George E. (Dobie) Jeffers, Jeffers Mens and Boys Wear; L. (Sonny) Chiamonte, Campbell Music Store; and Vince Lavios, Vince's Guarantee Shoe Store.

According to De La Roche, the original advantage of the local stamp association remains the same. "Stamps are redeemed by your local merchant. You are getting quality merchandise and qual-

Statewide election -- OR..

It will all be over Tuesday, Nov. 8

Campbell voters will go to the polls next Tuesday, Nov. 8, to cast ballots in a statewide election which has attracted nationwide interest because of the race for governor between Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, Democratic incumbent, and Ronald Reagan, Republican challenger.

But regardless of the results, voting history will be made in Campbell and Santa Clara County next Tuesday.

For most Campbell voters, next Tuesday's election will mark the first time they will have used a so-called "voting machine" in casting their ballots.

Santa Clara County voters will use the "IBM Votomatic", a new system that uses punch cards for balloting and high speed computers for vote processing.

But, with or without the "votomatic", the election ballot next Tuesday is complicated and lengthy. The voter must not only pick the state officers, but congressional and judicial as well. And then there are 17 state measures, and, for those in the West Valley Junior College District, a $21.5 million bond issue.

For those who live in San Jose and Santa Clara cities there are also city measures on the ballot to complicate matters even further.

In the June primary

SHOWING HOW--Herb Shadle, retired Campbell druggist and who has been in charge of the Republican headquarters in Campbell during the campaign, in the above pictures demonstrates how to use the IBM Votomatic which voters in Santa Clara County will use for the first time next Tuesday.

One of the machines has been on display at the GOP headquarters. In the top photo Shadle takes the first step, inserting the ballot card into the proper slot, positioning the two holes over the red pins in the Votomatic.

In the lower photo, Shadle uses the voting stylus to punch the proper hole next to the candidate or measure of his choice.

The voter continues to turn the pages until the ballot is completed and then lifts the ballot from the red pins and removes it from the Votomatic. The ballot is placed in an envelope and returned to the election official.

Editorial

We endorse-----

About those propositions

Traditionally in the last issue before an election, The Campbell Press makes recommendations or endorsements of candidates seeking election.

The Press is not naive enough to believe that its endorsements will greatly influence or have much bearing on the election results.

On the other hand, we recognize that these endorsements of ours do play a minor role in the overall voting picture, if for no other reason than to stimulate the thinking of the individual voter.

If these endorsements help in a small way in the process that an intelligent voter uses to make up his mind, we think they have served a useful purpose.

We also think it is wise for the reader to keep in mind that the endorsements of this newspaper represent the basic thinking of one person, to wit, your editor.

It would be ridiculous then to assume that they will meet with approval of all our readers. There will be some who will vehemently disagree with the recommendations. Then, there will be others who will be pleased with our thinking as expressed in this editorial.

Unfortunately there will be some who will so violently disagree that they will cancel their subscriptions and berate the paper for its editorial opinion.

Those are the ones who maintain that, unless you think the same as they do, you are a menace to society.

You might say that this is sort of an occupational hazard that we in the newspaper profession have to face.

Your editor, as most of you know, is highly independent in his viewpoints and has always crossed party lines with great abandon. Although a registered Republican at the present time, we have also served time as a Democrat.

Whatever party label we happen to be carrying at a particular time has not ever affected this "crossing over" when we felt like it.

So here goes our endorsements for next Tuesday, Nov. 8. We will let the chips fall where they may and we will just duck:

For Governor: PAT BROWN (Dem.)

No one can be in office for eight years without being a target for criticisms and being accused of a certain amount of "bumbling". Change simply for change's sake doesn't seem to us enough of a basis for electing an unknown quantity.

For Lieutenant Governor: ROBERT FINCH (Rep.)

We thought we were unique in endorsing a dem. gov. and a rep. it. gov. but a number of other papers have come out the same way. In this state these two offices are elected separately and we believe that Bob Finch, the moderate Republican nominee, has the background in law, business, politics and government that would serve him well as this state's number 2 man. We prefer to see the Republicans select their candidates from qualified personnel than to dip into the Hollywood reservoir.

For Secretary of State: NORMAN A. Schlei (Dem.)

We are not convinced that it is necessary to have a "family dynasty" run the secretary of state office in this state. We also think that maybe there is an age when a person should enjoy retirement, provided the opposing candidate is qualified. And we believe he is in this case.

For Controller: HOUSTON I. FLOURNEY (Rep.)

We believe that Flournoy, who is a three term California assemblyman, with an excellent background, will make an outstanding state controller. He has pledged to abolish the appointed inheritance tax appraisers, which is one of the greatest points of controversy in this state and in under the controller's jurisdiction.

For Treasurer: BERT A. BETTS (Dem. incumbent.)

We are convinced that the incumbent has done an outstanding job and, in our opinion, just because a person has been a political appointee in a federal administration does not qualify that person for a state position, even if the name happens to be on a piece of currency.

For Attorney General: THOMAS C. LYNCH (Dem. incumbent.)

In our opinion the present attorney general has the experience and qualifications to carry on the job.

For Board of Equalization: GEORGE E. REILLY (Dem. incumbent.)

In our opinion the incumbent by his record in office has proved that he is deserving of re-election.

For U. S. Representative: CHARLES S. GUBSER (Rep. incumbent)

We strongly urge the reelection of Charlie Gubser as we have in every past election in which he has been a candidate. Gubser's integrity is unquestioned and his seniority and sincerity place him in an enviable position in congress.

For State Senator (14th district): CLARK L. BRADLEY (Rep. incumbent.)

While we concede that perhaps Clark Bradley's record in the legislature may indicate that he is more of a conservative than we would desire, we feel that the present State Senator is sincere in his attitude and provides

In addition to the elective offices that appear on the ballot next Tuesday, Nov. 8, there are 17 state measures being submitted to the voters (listed as 1-a through 16) and a bond issue for West Valley Joint Junior College District listed as Proposition J.

The Press has previously endorsed the $21,500,000 bond issue for the West Valley College district and in this final pre-election issue again urges voter approval of the bond issue. Vote Yes on Proposition J.

Many of the 17 state measures on the ballot are routine proposals to clarify existing situations. But there are a number that will have far-reaching significance and thus the voter has a definite responsibility to exercise care in marking his ballot.

In making the following recommendations, The Press again emphasizes that it is not the intention of this paper to set itself up as an infallible authority. We expect to have people disagree with our endorsements. And that is the way it should be.

But here goes on the state measures:

PROPOSITION 1-a: YES... This would appeal, amend and revise provisions of the antiquated state constitution. It provides for annual legislative sessions; increases the legislators salaries to $16,000; clamps down on conflict of interests. The measure also makes some needed reforms in the executive and judicial operations.

PROPOSITION 1: YES... This would authorize the legislature to enact a law permitting investment of retirement funds in stocks and shares of certain corporations with limitations.

PROPOSITION 2: YES... This would authorize a bond issue of $230,000,000 to provide major building construction for the University of California and state colleges as determined specifically by the legislature.

PROPOSITION 3: YES... This authorizes the legislature to define, provide restrictions on use, and establish bases for assessment of "open space" lands restricted as to use by specific legislative enactment.

PROPOSITION 4: YES... This reduces the present two-thirds vote required for approval of local general obligation bonds for library and school purposes to 60%.

PROPOSITION 5: NO... This would permit the legislature to authorize local taxing agencies to provide for assessment or reassessment of property damaged or destroyed by a major misfortune in areas proclaimed disaster areas by the governor. The weakness of the measure is that it is discriminatory in scope as it would afford different treatment for persons in different areas.

PROPOSITION 6: YES... This would require the legislature to convene for five days after a 30-day recess following adjournment of regular sessions to consider "pocket vetoes" by the governor. We think this measure will help to keep one man (the governor) from nullifying the work of the legislature, if the legislation is needed.

PROPOSITION 7: YES... This would allow the boards of supervisors, rather than the legislature to fix their own salaries and those of their district attorneys and county auditors. This act brings the question of our county officials back to where it belongs, to the home front.

PROPOSITION 8: YES... This measure affects the amount of real property tax deductions from gross premiums tax for home or principal office deductions. We think it is a logical move, for it will prevent out-of-state insurance companies from taking advantage of the present "principal office" loophole.

PROPOSITION 9: YES... This measure would give the blind veteran the same tax exemption now allowed paraplegic veterans. It provides for a $5000 property tax exemption, the "balance wheel" that is needed.

For State Senator (13th district): AL ALQUIST (Dem.)

We think that Al Alquist by his record as assemblyman since 1962 deserves "promotion" to state senator to the new district that has been formed.

For Assemblyman (24th district): JOHN VASCONCELLOS (Dem.)

We urge the election of John Vasconcellos because we feel he will bring a forceful attitude into the legislature. He has an outstanding background for the job.

For Assemblyman (25th district): EARLE P. CRANDALL (Rep.)

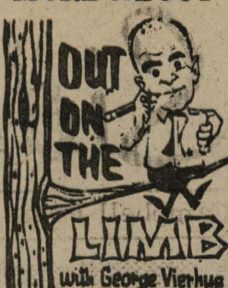

We believe that Dr. Crandall, retired San Jose superintendent of schools, has the background and the ability to serve this assembly district with distinction. The "far out" attitude of the incumbent on many issues has concerned us in many instances.

For Superior Court Judge: BRUCE F. ALLEN

We are firmly convinced that Bruce Allen is the type of man and attorney who will make an outstanding superior judge. Allen demonstrated while a member of the legislature, that his integrity was above reproach. Whether you agree or disagree with his viewpoints on various issues, to our way of thinking, is incidental, for with Bruce Allen you know at all times where he stands.

We have always liked that trait in him and have supported him in the past. We believe sincerely that Bruce Allen SHOULD BE superior judge. WE NEED more of his kind on the bench.

MORE ABOUT

(unabridged)". That dictionary is only 11 years old (a very brief "lifetime" you must admit).

WE FOUND IT ESSENTIAL to get a more modern version of the English language than offered by the 1955 book which did yeoman service in the office and is still available.

So we have a hunch that the 1966 version issued by Random House could become out-dated before a "lifetime" is up.

We reported some time ago what in remodeling the office we came upon a Funk & Wagnalls Co. 1902 "A Standard Dictionary of the English Language".

Now 64 years is not necessarily a "lifetime" either.

But there have been some changes that must sort of relegate that 1902 job to the museum.

BUT GET BACK TO WEIGHING WORDS... We did literally, using the office scales.

For the statistically minded, the 1902 dictionary weighed in at 19 pounds and consisted of 2275 pages.

The 1955 Webster book hit the scales at 11 pounds and has 2289 pages.

The newest entry, the 1966 Random House model, weighs 10 pounds and has 2096 pages.

As an added starter in this reference works derby, for good measure we put on the new Columbia Encyclopedia (third edition 1963) consisting of 2388 pages and it weighed 9 1/2 pounds.

YOU CAN DRAW your own conclusions from these figures, noting that 1902 book is the heavy-weight.

The point is, of course, that The Press apparently has all the words it will ever need on hand right now.

How they are used, of course, is something else again.

PERUSING AND COMPARING these reference works has been fun for us, although time-consuming.

So by passing some of our notes on to you, we justify to some extent the time we spent.

A cursory examination found a number of words in the 1966 book that did not appear in the 1955 job.

For example: "AEROSPACE"--pertaining to or concerned with the design and manufacture of vehicles, missiles and the like that operate in aerospace...

"ASTRONAUT"--One who travels outside the earth's atmosphere.

That gives some idea of just what can happen in a decade.

WE THOUGHT IT was interesting that all three books defined "WHIP-LASH", as a lash of whip or a handle. (In fact, the 1902 dictionary devoted several columns to "whips".)

But only in the 1966 book was "whip-lash" defined as a neck injury. (Insurance companies, please note).

Incidentally, it was while suffering from our back-ache that we were examining the books, so naturally we looked up "back-ache" in all three reference books.

And it appeared in all three... "a pain in the back", etc.

Somehow that made us feel a little better for a moment, i.e. to know that in the post-gay-90 period there were back-achers also.

Incidentally, "back-biter" appeared in all three books and defined almost in the same way... to slander or speak evil of an absent person etc.

MAPS, of course, are important supplements to all dictionaries.

The maps of Canada, United States and South America are basically the same in all three books... but that is not true of other sections of the globe...

Some nations have disappeared since 1902, as you know, and two World Wars changed the boundaries of many others.

And between the 1955 and 1966 books, Africa has undergone almost a complete change as far as boundaries are concerned.

But we think we have made our point.

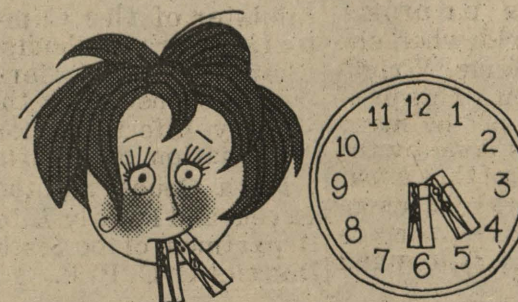

You may use the same dictionary for a "lifetime", if you want to... BUT--

Good work, girls!

Kelley Park in San Jose was the scene of much rejoicing last week when the Campbell Garden Club heard the exciting news that they were the winners of the Sears and Roebuck Civic Improvement Grant of $150. The award was given for their Hamilton Ave. Beautification Project.

Mrs. Ward Brannon, president of the Campbell Garden Club, accepted the grant from Mrs. Frank Stapleton, director of the Santa Clara Valley District, California Garden Clubs, Inc.

The local Garden Club project, named best in the statewide garden club competition, was the financing of 335 eucalyptus trees for the median divider strips on W. Hamilton Ave., between Winchester Blvd. and Phoenix Dr. The club members recently presented a check for $1000 to the City of Campbell to defray the costs of the trees.

The city cooperated by planting ground cover, installing a sprinkler system, and supplying the labor.

The trees and ground cover are now thriving, and the eucalyptus trees are expected to reach full height in five years. Mrs. Minnie Snyder and Mrs. Brannon were the chairmen of the beautification project for the Campbell Garden Club.

Cambrian Park BPWC slates bazaar for scholarship funds

BUCKNALL

Two members of the West Valley College Board of Trustees presented the pro and con issues of the upcoming $21,500,000 bond election at the Bucknall Elementary School P.T.A. meeting Nov. 1. Also on the program were skin diver and first grade teacher Mrs. Myrrha Eberly and the award winning colored slides of skin diver Edward Zimbel-man.

Robert W. Brydon, president of the Board of Trustees for West Valley College, urged passage of the proposed bond issue. Bruce F. Allen, Board of Trustees member, expressed the views of the opposition to the bond proposal.

Zimbelman, a Los Gatos resident has won many awards for his underwater photography. Slides of the Mediterranean, South Pacific and the Caribbean were included in the showing. Mrs. Eberly, a teacher at Bucknall School, set a new women's world record last summer in the Yucatan Peninsula for the deepest unassisted dive, going to a depth of 235 feet. She showed some slides taken in this area.

Members of Junior Girl Scout Troop 704 opened the meeting with the flag salute. Students participating were Ann Sewill, Kristine Dilly, Paula Webster, Suzanna McAfee, Lynn Shohbozian, Beth Rau, Cindy Hollenbeck and Shannon Dyer. Mrs. Raymond Webster is leader of the troop.

Warrior World

by RUSS LONG

Seniors again showed their superiority at the Halloween dance last Friday night. They walked off with the seven dollar bill presented to the class with the highest percentage of student body card sales.

Penny Beene, junior, won the pumpkin sweepstakes sponsored by the junior journalism class. Answering the question "How Nutty Is Clem," Penny guessed 376 nuts, while the actual count was 377. As a result of her count, Penny receives a month's free guitar lessons, courtesy Maple Leaf Music, free passes to the Straw Hat Pizza, all the goodies that were inside "Clem" the pumpkin, and of course, those 377 nuts.

STANFORD TRIP

A trip to Stanford Band Day was on order for the Westmont Marching Band last Saturday. Attending along with about 64 other Bay Area high schools, the band performed at the half-time of the Stanford Indians-Washington Huskies game. Stanford lost, 22-20 on a 22-yard field goal kicked by Washington's Dick Martin in the final minutes.

Speaking of football, the Westmont eleven are now in a three-way tie for second place in the West Valley Athletic League. The Warriors parlayed four long-range scoring plays into a 26-13 victory over visiting Camden last Friday afternoon.

A 65-yard run by Harry Wright, senior, and a 38-yard return on a blocked punt by Bruce Anderson, senior, led the Warrior attack.

This Friday the Blackford Braves invaded the Warrior Coliseum for a game starting at 3:00 p.m.

John Quigley to exhibit church art

Liturgical art by Campbell High School art teacher John Quigley will be shown at Fellowship Gallery, First Methodist Church, Los Gatos, throughout November. The public is invited to meet the artist at an informal reception on Sun., Nov. 6, from 2 to 4 p.m.

These paintings, done as a San Jose State College Master's project, embody ancient religious symbols combined with modern liturgical concepts expressed in contemporary art forms using construction (heavy sculptural collage) in the clear colors and clean lines employed by current hard-edge painters.

Quigley, who has received recognition as an exceptional art teacher at Campbell High School, is well known in Santa Clara Valley as an award winner in exhibits such as the County Fair, Valley Fair Art Fair, and the California State Fair.

Gallery hours are from 10 to 3 weekdays.

Fathers and daughters enjoy G.A.A. party

The spotlight was on Fathers at Campbell High School last Wednesday evening, when the Girls Athletic Association has a "Father and Daughter Night".

The evening was definitely athletic, with volleyball and relay races the main entertainment. Later donuts and cider were served to the happy but tired group.

"It's the rudest thing I've ever seen. Why, my Priscilla had barely gotten out of the car when three boys piled all their books on her and said, 'March'. I was so startled I just sat there, and when she got to the door those same boys stood back and let her open it for them. If I..."

Now hold on just a minute, Mother. Let me explain. All year boys escort girls to their classes, carry their books, and open doors for them. Well, we figure it would be all right to turn the tables for just one week out of the year. You, Mother, have just witnessed part of the tradition that is Twirp Week. And don't be surprised if Priscilla asks for the car Friday night.

This special week comes to a big climax at that time, Nov. 4, with the annual Twirp Dance, to which the girl must ask the boy. In addition, the female is responsible for transportation and, in most cases, all expenses incurred during the course of the evening.

Featured at the dance will be a trio of bands vying for a cash prize. The affair, which begins at 8 p.m. and terminates at 11, will see one hour performances by The Common Interest, The Paragons, and The Joker is Wild.

Now, Mother, stop worrying about your girl and dismiss the actions of those boys as "part of Twirp Week."

Del Mar Dateline

by LINDA DEL GRANDE

Victory was accomplished by Del Mar's football team last Friday, as they wiped out the Los Gatos Wildcats with a score of 18-12. A spectacular feature of the game, was Del Mar's Don Transeth running 79 yards to make a touchdown.

Friday, Oct. 21, the Del Mar Dons fought hard but were defeated by the Campbell Bucs. The score was 27-14.

NEW EVENTS

This year's Twirp Week featured two new events which replaced the Clash Day. One of the new days was called Ties and Pins Day. Students wore funny or unusual ties, buttons, and pins to school.

The other new feature was Ring Day. On this day the students of Del Mar were allowed to wear as many rings on their fingers as they wished.

Along with these two new events the regular days were held. These were Slave Day, Hat Day, and Silence to Boys Day.

Twirp Week will be topped off Friday evening, Nov. 4, with the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

NAME CHANGE

Del Mar's school paper the Excelsior is changing its name to the Galleon. Drawings were submitted to the Student Council who polled the Student Body for the final decision.

Gonzales wins Horseshoe cup

Jesse Gonzales won seven straight games Sunday at Oak Meadow Park, Los Gatos, to emerge as the new Los Gatos Horseshoe Club Champion. Bob Swenson won five straight games in a consolation group to walk off with the Class B trophy.

Gonzales pitched consistent horseshoe all afternoon in the eight-man championship round-robin to finish with a brilliant 69.9 ringer percentage. Verdan Zelmar of 2183 Abbey Lane, Campbell placed second compiling a 6 won, 1 lost record. Zelmar averaged 65.1% ringers for the seven games.

and posted the high percentage game of the tourney; a 77.5% ringer effort. Stan MacCarty was third with four wins and three losses.

Joe Sadowski placed second in the Class B six-man round-robin with four wins and one loss.

Guns stolen

Several guns and a rifle were stolen from the home of Ronald E. Baker, 271 San Tomas Rd. recently, a report from the Campbell Police Department indicated. Baker, a sales closer for West Valley Ford was on vacation at the time of the burglary, the report said.

Missing are two 12 gauge shotguns and a 22. caliber rifle as well as ammunition. The weapons were kept on a gun rack in the bedroom. Entry was apparently made through the sliding glass doors adjoining the patio.

By MEL

A story is told about a meeting between William Durant, the promoter and empire builder who founded General Motors, and Henry Ford, who needs no explanation. Had the outcome of the meeting been different, chances are that the famed Model T, Model A and subsequent Ford products would have been General Motor's models rather than being GM's fiercest competition. It seems that Ford met Durant in New York in 1909 and miserable with lumbago, offered to sell out for eight million dollars during a weak moment. Durant tried to borrow money to swing the deal, but the bank decided that Ford Motor Company wasn't worth the risk. Today a bank couldn't even find out how much money it lost on that deal. Ford won't tell how much it's worth...

BUSINESS NEWS

NEWS ABOUT LOCAL BUSINESSES, AND BUSINESS PEOPLE

WHAT IS IT???--The unusual looking vehicle in the foreground, used to be THE THING!... years ago. It is a 1926 Model "T" Ford... as if you didn't know... belonging to Clyde Hale, an insurance agent, with offices next-door to MEL'S MOBIL, at Bascom and Hamilton Blvd., in Campbell. The "QUESTION"... has nothing to do with Hale's auto, really... he must be a good insurance risk, 'cause he has kept the Ford "undented"!... but the signs in the background indicate MEL'S perplexity as to the proper price for gasoline now-a-days! Drive in and ask... "What'll you take for five gallons?"... you may even have the price for the "T".

LOOK AT HIM GLOW! --"Rod" as he's known to his customers at the San Tomas Village Shopping Center, is really beaming at the announcement he is making this week.

Rod is going "Big Time" and will have THREE BARBERS to wait on the customers now. The "Village West Barber Shop" will feature, in starring roles, Rod (himself)... Larry, and BIG Ed!... And he's big enough for all three! You can see them in "action" at San Tomas Aquino Rd., and Smith Ave.

DON'T RAISE THAT BRIDGE... LOWER THE RIVER! The nautical looking group, looking on as Miss Campbell prepares to "smash" the traditional bottle of champagne is, from right to left, Hoyt Colgate, post-commander USCG Auxiliary;

Edward Rogers, vice-mayor of Campbell; Charlie Rose, councilman of Campbell; Max "Shony" Schoenberger, and Arthur "Red" Bass, owners of Shony's Boat Land; Shari Dahl, "Miss Campbell"; Max Averitt, training officer, flotilla 41 - USCG

Auxiliary; and Dick Hardy, president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce. The grand opening ceremony was a "smashing" success... although the champagne was rather "undrinkable" after the "opening".

ARE YOU READY FOR FREDDIE?--The attractive edifice on the corner of San Tomas Aquino Rd., and Campbell Ave., sports an equally attractive sign announcing that it is "Freddie's", but Fred-dies' What? The local information is that it is to be a dispensary of alcoholic beverages! Just like service stations... one on every corner! Now you can get either "oiled" or "gassed", on any corner you choose! (Ed.'s Note: They changed the BIG SIGN as we went to "press"... Now we have to make a "re-take" scene!) keep your eye on this spot

SPACE AGE?--Denoting the Space Age theme of the "Stars and Cars" show of the Santa Clara County Car Dealers Association, are San Jose State College students Sue Kindall and Jack Fowler, who will entertain children during the show at the Fairgrounds, Nov. 10-

13. A Mercury capsule and other space vehicles and equipment will share stage with the '67 "models" at the show.

"CRACK" or "QUACK"?

International Chiropractors Association announced today that it will hold the First National Congress on Chiropractics in Chicago, Jan. 13-14 at the Pick-Congress Hotel. The Theme of the Congress will be "Chiropractics: Fact v. Fallacy".

Announcing the Congress, Dr. L. W. Rutherford of Eugene, Ore., president of International Chiropractors Association, said, "The chiropractic profession has been attacked by the American Medical Association."

Dr. Rutherford was referring to the AMA National Congress on Medical Quackery held in Chicago Oct. 7-8 where", he said, "charges of quackery were loosely hurled at the chiropractic profession by the AMA. "Medical quackery", he said, "was almost completely forgotten about, and supplanted with attacks of a profession completely outside the purview of the American Medical Association."

"This attack", he said, "was not in the interest of the public health. The AMA wants to downgrade the chiropractic profession and at the same time take over the practice of spinal adjusting under the guise of physical medicine or physical therapy."

"Medical doctors know the value of chiropractic care, utilize spinal adjusting and refer patients to doctors of chiropractics. This makes the AMA attack pure doubletalk", he said.

Dr. Rutherford said the Congress on Chiropractics "will document the role of chiropractics in the healing arts."

"No organization holds a monopoly on health or health methods", Dr. Rutherford said. "Each profession should work within its own field for the betterment of humanity."

Dr. Rutherford stated that International Chiropractors Association wrote the American Medical Association well in advance of the AMA Quackery Congress offering the Association's assistance in ridding all health professions of quackery.

"The Congress", he said, "will explain the role of chiropractic as the largest non-medical healing art in the world, will bring chiropractic facts into proper perspective."

The practice of chiropractics consists in part of analyzing the spinal column for the purpose of determining nerve interference which may affect the health or well-being of the patient. X-rays and other approved chiropractic analytical instruments may be utilized in this procedure. Adjustments of the vertebrae are performed for the purpose of making necessary spinal corrections and this is done without the use of drugs or surgery.

Scope of practice, as adopted by the membership, seeks to assure the patient ethical chiropractic procedures in which doctors of chiropractics are specifically trained. Prompt referral of the patient to other specialties is required where the need for such non-chiropractic care is indicated.

CONGRATULATIONS PODNUH! --Max "Shony" Schoenberger, and Arthur "Red" Bass, partners in the fabulously successful... (Yep, they've already out-grown their facilities... in one week!) "Shony's Boat Land", congratulated each other at the preview ceremonies the night before the grand opening ceremonies. Both men have been working "round the clock", but the pleasure of doing such a grand business shows up in the "fresh-as-a-daisy" look which is evident in the above photo.

FRIENDLY COMPETITION--Roger Benemel, of Dorsett's Marine division relaxes his competitive stance long enough to clasp the hand of "Spike" Harvey, of Glastron's Bat-Boat fame, in a warm and truly "friendly" handshake. The two men, representatives of the boat building companies, displaying their crafts at Shony's Boat Land.

The question of whether U.S. planes should be bombing targets in North Vietnam is legitimately debatable, but when the President of the United States made the decision to do so, then one fact should have been beyond question—the men ordered into combat should be allowed the greatest possible chance of coming back alive.

Unfortunately, a ridiculous decision made in Washington has resulted in a high loss of U.S. planes and needless loss of American lives. This is the decision not to attack surface-to-air missile (SAM) installations in North Vietnam.

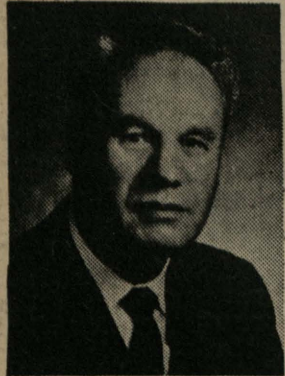

At high altitude U.S. aircraft can usually avoid single batteries of the Russian-built surface-to-air missiles for this reason: their guidance system is controlled by a "Phan-song" radar which must be turned on before the missile is launched. Aircraft with electronic counter equipment can locate these radar and warn our planes, allowing them to take evasive action. A properly warned pilot can go into tight turns and dives which confound the missile's guidance system. But as the number of SAM sites increases in a target area, the possibilities for successful evasion decrease. So the Communists have clustered their SAM sites.

For some ridiculous reason our fliers have not been allowed to attack these sites and knock them out. Some explain they are "defensive weapons and should not therefore be attacked. This raises the question: If a defense deserves immunity, is the attack itself justified?

Because of this decision, our fliers are forced to go in low to their targets and accept murderous conventional anti-aircraft fire. According to a recent press report, we have lost more than 400 planes to anti-aircraft fire. Considering that a high level attack would be out of anti-aircraft range, it is perfectly ridiculous that a modern air force should suffer such losses to old style anti-aircraft fire.

The real tragedy is the loss of American life. There is real irony in committing men to combat, denying them the chance to strike a purely military target, and condemning them to a needless risk which often results in death. Of secondary but major importance is the loss of aircraft. The Navy is now frantically ordering attack aircraft which were obsolete four years ago because one company can produce them quickly. We have even been required to let contracts to Japanese firms to repair our battle-damaged planes.

As previously stated, the question of whether we should be bombing at all is legitimately debatable, but the President has no right to condemn men to less than their best chance of surviving the missions he orders them to undertake. If he believes we should be over Vietnam, then he has the obligation to allow them to strike any military installation which is installed for the purpose of shooting them down.

The men I have talked to are stoical about their fate. They know the restriction against them is foolhardy but they accept it as good soldiers. But civilians have no such restrictions and should demand that the Administration either stop bombing or wipe every missile site off the face of North

SOCIAL SECURITY
 Questions and Answers

Q. What is the earliest date I can enroll for Medicare?
 A. In any one of the three months before the month you are 65. If you enroll later, your medical insurance protection will not start with the month you are 65.

Q. Why should my health insurance application be filed three months before age 65?
 A. Health insurance is a two-part program -- hospital insurance and medical insurance. The medical insurance part will start at age 65 only if you file your application in the three months before your birthday.

Q. What happens if I file for Medicare after my 65th birthday?
 A. Your hospital insurance protection will start immediately, but your medical insurance protection will be delayed.

Q. I am retiring at age 65. Do I have to bring any special papers to get health insurance or my cash benefits?
 A. You must submit proof of your age. The same document is sufficient for social security checks and health insurance protection.

Grass Roots

BRIGHTEN YOUR GARDEN
 One of the nicest things about gardening in California is the color we get from various annuals and shrubs in winter. While gardeners in other states are huddling indoors, we can be out picking bouquets of many and varied flowers.

If you plant now, for instance, you can have winter color from three annuals which the California Association of Nurserymen says are most easy to grow and care for: Iceland Poppy, calendula and Fairy Primrose. There are others, to be sure, but these are consistently among the top performers in winter around here.

To be technical, the Iceland Poppy is actually a perennial, but we treat it as an annual in California, sowing new seed each summer or setting out nursery transplants in the fall. Its period of bloom depends on how much growing time it gets in fall, but Californians can normally expect to be picking long-stemmed cups of color from their Iceland Poppies early in the new year.

Calendulas are almost a year-round thing in their golden colors are most appreciated in winter. Here again the young plants need as much growing time as possible before cold weather cuts them short, so plant them the soonest if you want color before spring. The original bright orange and yellow blooms of this old Pot Marigold have been softened by hybridizing in recent years, but you'll still find calendulas producing your brightest color in winter.

Fairy Primroses are much more subdued than the above two, but their white, lavender or pink heads of color are delightful in the late winter garden. Plant them as an edging for a walk or as a border for a bed, and you'll discover that this delicate beauty can hold its own in any company.

within the city limits of Campbell there were 4549 Democrats registered, 2978 Republicans and 360 others. Although the registration picture may have changed to some degree for next Tuesday's election, it is expected, as usual, there will be the "crossing over" by the voters which has been a trade-mark of California in the past and has driven many "pollsters" who have tried to predict the outcome to distraction or worse.

For the state offices and measures, and the congressional contest, (10th district), all Campbell voters have the same "list", but it is a different story for the assembly and state senate spots.

Parts of Campbell are in both the 13th and 14th state senate districts and both the 24th and 25th assembly districts extend into the community.

Prior to the recent redistricting, Campbell was almost entirely within the 22nd district of which George Milias, Republican incumbent, is being tabbed as one of the few "cinches" in next Tuesday's voting.

Campbell lies within the 10th Congressional District, long represented by Congressman Charles S. Gubser, Republican from Gilroy, who is seeking his eighth term as U.S. representative and "experts" expect the veteran congressman to be returned to office next Tuesday. George Leppert is the Democratic challenger.

In the 14th state senate district, Clark L. Bradley, Republican incumbent, is opposed by Edward Freitas, Democrat while in the 13th district, Alquist, veteran Democratic assemblyman, who is seeking "promotion" to the senate, is opposed by William Bradley, his Republican challenger.

In the 25th assembly district, Earle P. Crandall, retired San Jose school superintendent, Republican, opposes the liberal Democratic incumbent, William F. Stanton.

In the 24th assembly district, there is no incumbent, and John Vasconcellos, Democratic nominee, and William Best, Republican, oppose each other.

Another race confined to the county is for superior judge, office 5, in which Bruce Allen, an outstanding attorney who represented the county in the legislature for many years, is opposed by Sidney Feinberg,

'Main drag'

"going-over" has been held in abeyance by the city until a definite course of action has been determined by the redevelopment group.

An allocation of $50,000 by the city for Campbell Ave. improvement a year ago was shifted to other needs because the city was reluctant to move in, for a parking district could conceivably change the type of road work needed.

If the downtown group decides to discontinue its efforts, Stephens has indicated that city funds earmarked for less pressing projects could be transferred to the Campbell Ave. job so that the long-awaited and much-needed improvement of the "main drag" can be made without any more delay.

The city manager pointed out that tentative plans would improve the street to the full 70-foot width and that in the blocks next to Winchester the necessary right-of-way has been acquired.

a municipal judge in Palo Alto.

Statewide the race for governor between Brown and Reagan as well as the contests for the lesser state offices have made this election campaign, which reaches the climax next Tuesday, one of the most interesting and perhaps most heated on record.

And as usual, some of the state measures on the ballot have received violent opposition and vigorous support.

The Campbell Press makes its endorsements of the candidates and measures on the editorial page in this issue.

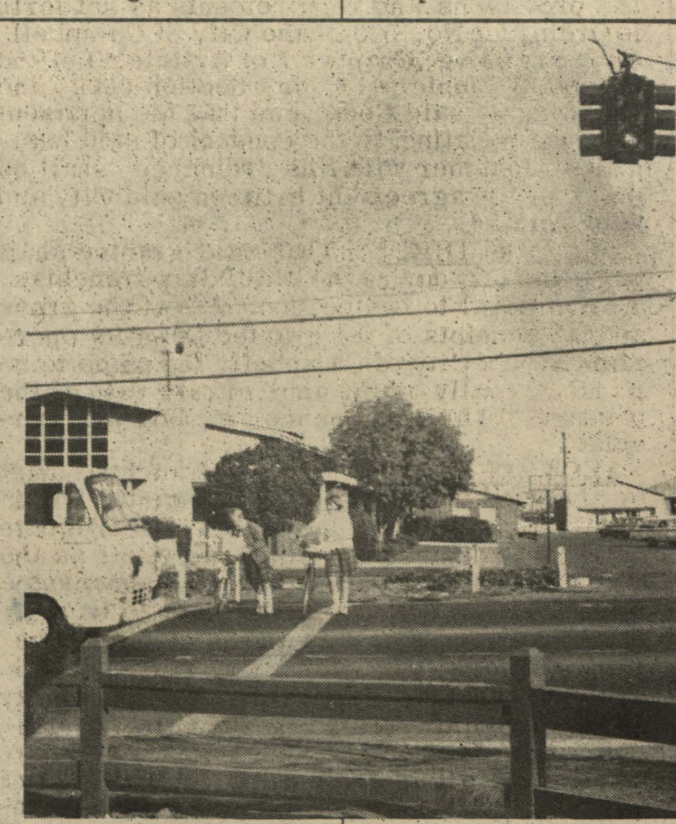

Most election experts while disagreeing on who is the favorite in any particular race are agreed almost unanimously, however, that there will not be a complete one-party "sweep" in any event.

IT'S ALL OVER--Campbell firemen and P.G.&E. maintenance crew members cooperated last week in controlling the situation when a transformer exploded and began burning on a pole above Pep's Super Market at Bascom and Campbell Ave.

Commission okays gas station
BUT hopes it doesn't happen

Planning Commission members on Monday night gave reluctant approval of a use permit for a service station at Winchester and Rincon.

But Mrs. Eva M. Archibald, owner of the property, will have two years before the use permit expires in order to find a more palatable use (in the commissioner's viewpoint) for the parcel. A fire several months ago destroyed the service station that had been on the property for years.

The commissioners added an extra year to the terms at the request of Lowell Grattan, local developer who represented his mother, Mrs. Archibald at the hearing. Grattan said they were looking for a better use.

Thayer Lyons, veteran member of the Planning Commission, apparently echoed the sentiments of his fellow members, when he said that "he would hate to have it said that the commission had done anything to force anyone into putting up a service station."

He added that, if an extra year would help in the negotiations, and he agreed that it might, he was all for it. The commission unanimously agreed.

The meeting Monday night had been continued from the regular meeting of Oct. 17 when three members of the commission were absent attending the annual convention of the League of Cities in San Diego.

For the first time in the city's history, the council had approved picking up the expense tab for planning commissioners at the convention.

Because the money had not been budgeted this year for the commissioners expenses, the council had first decided to forget about it this year and put it in the budget next year.

But on a personal appeal from the commissioners, the council had a change of heart and transferred enough money from unused portions of the budget.

Before the commission got down to work Monday (Halloween) they were visited by a number of goblins and ghosts (junior grade) on the "trick or treat" circuit. Mrs. Barbara Tracey, commission clerk, managed to furnish the necessary "treats" and the meeting continued.

In other actions, the commission:

--APPROVED the application of Ernest R. Cook for a commercial complex on property located at Winchester Blvd. at Sunnyvale.

--APPROVED the application of Ad Art, Inc. for a free-standing pole sign for the Rolling Hills Shopping Center at Hacienda in San Tomas Road.

--DENIED the application of Blaze Plastics for a free-standing pole sign for Blendwell Interiors at 167 E. Campbell Ave.

The denial was based on the conditions specified last August when fascia signs were approved for Blendwell that no other signs would be approved.

--DISCUSSED but did not decide how best the industrial property owned by Snowden-Pencer Corporation should be developed as to a street plan to allow for the best future development of the entire industrial area around it.

OVERPASS!!
About two months ago a petition was circulated favoring a pedestrian walkway over the San Tomas Expressway in the vicinity of Rincon Ave. I would like to take this opportunity to advise the interested people in the Campbell area as to what has been done so far.

On September 26 the petitions were presented to the Board of Supervisors who referred the problem to the County Transportation Policy Committee.

the name-change pointed out that most people in the area while Jack was living had thought of San Tomas School as Jack Fischer's School anyway, so the name-change would just substantiate that feeling.

Board members last month in deferring action to December did not indicate any opposition to the name-change. They felt, however, that it was too soon after Fischer's death then to act without sentiment.

Members of the committee seeking the name-change maintain that the name-change would recognize Jack Fischer's outstanding contribution to children and the community and to education in general.

Committee members include, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Vierra; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Nelson; Mr. and Mrs. James St. Germaine; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harmon; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Koreker; Mr. and Mrs. William Surratt; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Webster; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Colby.

tation Policy Committee. This committee met on October 12 and referred the issue to the Technical Advisory Committee who will decide as to whether or not the overcrossing will be included in Phase II of the Expressway Program. This report will be made to the County Transportation Policy Committee on November 9. The public may attend this meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the Board of Supervisors Chambers at 70 W. Hedding Avenue in San Jose.

Also of interest is the next meeting of the Campbell City Council at 8:00 p.m. on November 14. City Engineer William Wren will report to the Council the various ways in which Campbell can provide for the safety of the children now crossing the Expressway at Campbell Avenue.

NO RAISE!!

Dear Editor:
May we employees of the Campbell Union High School district, express a strenuous objection to an article in the high school section of your paper? First, the cafeteria workers have been refused a raise this year when almost everyone else in the district, including both teachers and classified workers, received one.

Secondly, the so-called "tremendous loss of money" ($11,000) was the deficit of all six schools together.

We do not blame your paper for printing this article as it seemed to be a direct quote from a principal. Also, we know that a number of such articles have been printed in our school papers and when we discussed this with Mr. Hill, our Superintendent, he stated that he could not be held responsible for articles written in the school papers.

Thank you for giving us this opportunity to object.
Sincerely yours,

Recognize any Campbell High 1918 student body members?

MEMORIES OF 1918--Members of the Campbell High School student body lined up in front of the school building on Dec. 4, 1918 and had their pictures taken. The years passed, and recently, in a building in San Jose that was being demolished, the picture came to light, was rescued and turned over to the Campbell Press for safe-keeping.

Friday Mrs. Wilbur Mitchell, who in 1918 was Miss Majorie Sprecher, Home Economics instructor at the school, identified many of the above pictured students. Mrs. Mitchell who is seen fourth from the left, middle row, taught at the school from 1916 to 1921. The Press publishes the pictures with some of the students named and invites others to come in and identify others in the class. The picture will be turned over to the Campbell Historical Society for safe-keeping.

Mrs. Mitchell was not too well acquainted with the boys of the school but did pick out Emil Mrak, 12th from left, top row, who is now Chancellor of Davis campus University of California. Other boys were Floyd Howes and Roy Bartholomew.

In the third row Mrs. Mitchell's memory could only identify Cecile Elinor Duncan, Verna Cutting, Harriet Dunply, Mabel Wiesen-danher, Dorothy Merri-man Royce who later became principal of the Campbell Grammar School, near center, Henrietta Vanderduzen, Margaret Blaine Staffer and last, on the right, Elizabeth Turner who is now better known as Libby Ribble, of Ribble's Stationery Store.

Others will probably find themselves in the picture. The school at that time was located at the present site of the Shell service station and Will John's Gift Shop, southeast corner of Winchester and Campbell Avenues. As the picture was taken immediately following the ending of World War I, all the boys were pictured in ROTC uniforms.

Personnel and Training Officer Hired by E. O. C.

The Economic Opportunity Commission has hired a combined "personnel and training officer" to handle employee relations, Executive Director Philip Buskirk reports.

The new staff member is Robert Thompson, 45, a consultant in business management, manpower development and personnel. He will start work with the anti-poverty agency November 1.

One of Thompson's present clients is Opportunities Industrial Center West, a job training agency in East Palo Alto. He also has been a member of the board of directors of the Council on Civic Unity twice.

Thompson and his wife and three children have lived in the San Jose area since 1950. He graduated from Chapman College with a degree in sociology. He also studied at University of Southern California and has taken graduate work at San Jose State College in industrial relations.

Thompson worked for the Westinghouse Corporation in personnel and industrial relations for four years. Later he worked in personnel with San Jose State College for two years.

FEATURED ARTIST--The works of Campbell artist Marilyn Peery will be featured at El Gato Art Gallery, 3 Montebello Way, Los Gatos, during the month of November. Her exhibit will include mostly boats and rural landscapes, all oils, and some collages in goldleaf. Mrs. Perry resides at 756 Old Orchard Rd. She has exhibited widely in galleries in Washington and California. Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily except Monday.

Eggs fly with witches here on Halloween

Scrambled eggs, tomatoes, firecrackers and water-balloons made a gooey mess Halloween night resulting in 32 calls to the Campbell police station from widely separated areas of town.

A few calls of rock-throwing by over-exuberant teenagers were treated in a more serious light as was the report of several juveniles having a "beer-bust", but for the most part Campbell residents spent a quiet evening handing out "treats" to potential costumed tricksters who apparently made their residential raids between the hours of 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

A quick early-morning cruise down Campbell Ave. revealed no soaped-up windows as has been the case in other years. Several teen-age "scavenger hunts" were in progress with the hunters attempting to track down everything from bottle caps to a fly's eye-ball.

Alert Campbell police cruising the streets probably forestalled any more serious attempts at mischief.

Campbell Drugs reorganizes into corporation

Campbell Drugs and Pharmacy, in the Campbell Shopping Center at Winchester and Latimer, which last month marked its 11th anniversary doing business in Campbell, has been reorganized into a corporation, according to L.E. (Bill) Means, founder and formerly sole owner of the firm.

Means announced that Earl Nichols, 38, and Harvey Swenson, 28, both registered pharmacists, are now associated with him in the newly-formed corporation. Means will continue to take an active part in the operation of the store along with his two new associates.

Means, who is the "dean" of local druggists in point of seniority in this community, explained that the reorganization into a corporation will allow for continued expansion and service of Campbell Drugs, which has enjoyed an outstanding growth in the 11 years it has been in existence.

Although only 11 years old, Campbell Drugs is now the "oldest" drug store in Campbell under one continued ownership.

The formation of the corporation, however, is actually the third reorganizational step that the drug firm has taken since it opened in the Campbell Shopping Center in 1956 under Mean's guidance.

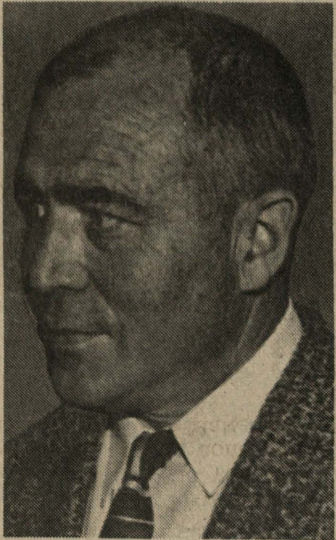

Means, who had been manager of Clark's Drugs for 12 years prior to establishing the new store in the center, and the late Mrs. Dan Clark, widow of the former owner of Clark's, were equal partners in the new store. Means continued for some years to operate both stores.

In 1963 Means purchased the interest of Mrs. Clark in Campbell Drugs and became sole owner.

During the more than 20 years that Means has lived in the community, he has taken an active interest in community affairs, serving as a member of the elementary school board for several terms and for 12 years was the unpaid trainer for the high school football teams.

A graduate of the University of California Means was active for many years in Cal alumni activities and was responsible for a number of high school athletes becoming Golden Bears.

He is a long-time member of the Campbell Kiwanis Club and served a term as president. He and Mrs. Means reside at 175 Poplar. They are the parents of two daughters, Pat (Mrs. Bill Lamson), a graduate of Campbell High and San Jose State and a former Campbell teacher, and Marilyn, now in her last year of pharmacy at University of Pacific. The Means also have three grandchildren.

BILL MEANS

Nichols, one of the new associates in the corporation, is not new to the Campbell Drugs, because since 1958 he has been employed as a regular pharmacist there.

Born in Idaho, he is a graduate in pharmacy from Idaho State College. He and his wife, Edna, have three children, Mark, 11; Patrick, 6; and Kelly Ann, 3. They reside at 1116 Denver, Campbell.

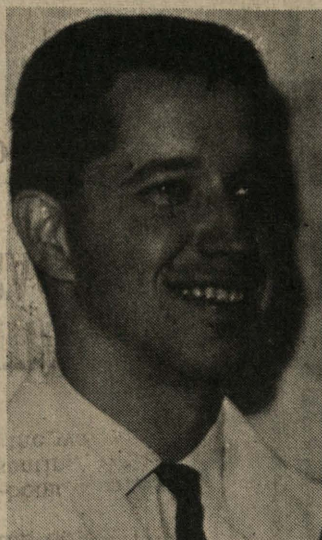

Swenson, the youngest member of the trio, is no stranger to Campbell either, as he is a graduate of Campbell

EARL NICHOLS

High ('55) and has "filled in" at Campbell Drugs on many occasions in the past years.

Swenson attended San Jose State for two years and received his degree in pharmacy from the University of Utah in 1960.

He and his wife, Jane, reside at 2540 Marsha, San Jose. They have one son, Christopher, 2.

B of A Xmas Club checks to go out

One of the earliest and happiest harbingers of the Christmas season, Bank of America Christmas Club checks will be distributed to Campbell residents this year.

In making the announcement today, Donald R. Kennedy, Manager of the Campbell Branch, and Oscar Sorenson, manager of the Hamilton Branch, said the local savers will be presenting themselves with a $101,000 gift.

These local savings are part of $81.7 million accumulated by more than 430,000 Christmas Club savers in Bank of America branches throughout California since last Christmas.

Most of this money will wind up under the Christmas tree on December 25, although some of the money will be used for winter vacations or paying such year-end expenses as taxes and insurance premiums.

PHYSICIANS ENDORSE

Formation of a Bi-Partisan Committee of Physicians for John Vasconcellos, Democratic candidate for Assemblyman from the 24th District, was announced today by Campbell physician, Fred R. Schlichting, M.D., chairman of the group.

BARBERSHOP QUARTET SHOW--"In the Good Old Summertime" is the title of the Barbershop Quartet Show to be presented at the San Jose Civic Auditorium Saturday, Nov.

5, at 8 p.m. by the San Jose chapter, SPEBSQSA. Pictured are the "Orioles" a Campbell quartet. They are (left to right) Guy McFarland, Moe Campbell, Lloyd Oksen and Chuck Northup. Portions of the proceeds from the show will be to Logopedics, which aids children with speech afflictions. For ticket information call 377-5578.

IS IT A PLANE? NO!

That billboard character is Superman Stanton!

And all the time, the poor, deluded people of the 25th Assembly District through he was Just Plain Bill, Mickey Mouse Bill, Two-Bill Bill, a comic character to be sure -- with the worst record of any legislator in Sacramento -- only two bills, both completely innocuous, passed by Two-Bill Bill in the entire 1965 Legislative Session -- two bills out of 2,070 authored by all of the other 119 legislators.

Is THAT what you want in Sacramento? A comic-book character, or do you want a REAL, LIVE Legislator representing YOU. A leader, concerning himself with your problems, not the world of Fantasy, Make-Believe, Comic Books.

REFERENCES

(from editorials of independent and Republican journals)

"Edmund G. Brown has been a good governor of California. History, in fact, might well place him among California's most far-sighted chief executives. He has guided his native state successfully through the greatest period of explosive growth in history. We believe that ability and accomplishment should be rewarded in public life as in private. For this re-election."

SAN FRANCISCO EXAMINER

"We have visited with Ronald Regan and explored his beliefs. We like him as a man. He is charming and sincere. But he offers to the people of California neither a practical program nor a proven talent in public affairs. The contents of his briefcase are somewhat lacking in substance because they are made up of attitudes and images. And attitudes and images are not enough to administer the affairs of a state with 20 million people and a $4.6 billion budget."

SAN FRANCISCO EXAMINER

"For the voter who is not going to cast his ballot strictly on the basis of party loyalty, Brown represents the better choice. For him, the Governorship is a job which he knows, not a role which he hopefully might be able to play some day. Brown has been the state's chief executive for seven years. California has boomed; it is more prosperous now than ever before."

PALO ALTO TIMES

"Ronald Reagan . . . lacks conviction because he has little to say . . . It is obvious he lacks preparation and background for the post he is seeking . . . His speeches are polished, as an actor's should be, but in spontaneous utterances he is confusing and vacillating."

PALO ALTO TIMES

"Brown's record is a remarkably good one... since Brown's experience in government is immense and has been mainly to California's advantage, we believe that the huge problems of that explosive state will be safer in his hands than Reagan's."

LIFE MAGAZINE

"Brown's strongest case against Reagan is the latter's inexperience, except as a movie actor."

LIFE MAGAZINE

"Governor Pat Brown, the Democratic incumbent, is not an exciting leader but he does have the experience, he has programs, and he has proved he can administer the affairs of a great and growing state honestly, intelligently, and compassionately. Governor Brown belongs at the State Capitol, dealing with the stubborn public problems he knows so well."

NEW YORK TIMES

"(Ronald Reagan's) standard speech is a skillful script combining moral platitudes, pseudo-indignation, homely examples, and harmless jokes. He knows very little about drawing up a state budget or administering a vast complex of state agencies and institutions; he has few if any specific programs on the hard problems that vex the lives of real governors. Mr. Reagan belongs in the studios in Hollywood, gracing the movie and television screens he knows so well."
